

ABAJO

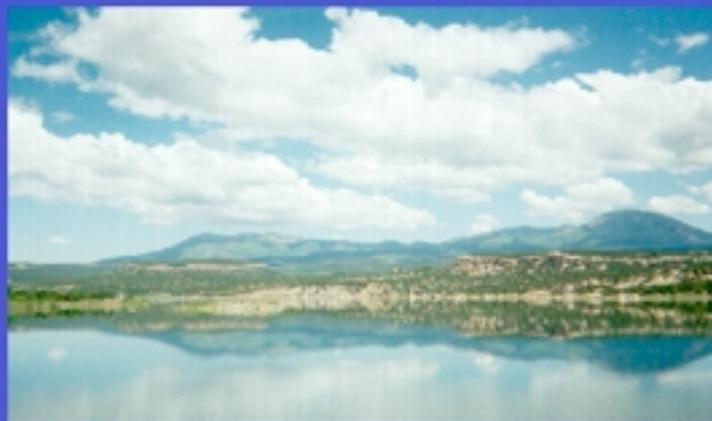

Just a short drive away are the mountains for family outings, deer hunting, hiking, and lots of good times. It has lots of cool air and beautiful scenery.

MOUNTAINS

I look at this mountain view every day from my kitchen window. It is beautiful spring, summer, winter, fall. Monticello is a great place to live.

The Blue Mountains are included in the National Forest; provider of water for the towns, saleable timber, and recreational activities. The county and visitors benefit from the mountain.

Blue Mountain is a great place to see and enjoy nature; it has access roads, campgrounds, private cabins, church camps, etc.; it provides recreation such as hunting, fishing, hiking, etc. It is also our water source, for which we are grateful.
